ABOUT GWF

Where responsible tourism
meets wildlife conservation

GLOBAL WILDLIFE FAIR (GWF)

is a pioneering event that seeks to unite diverse global and local stakeholders from the fields of wildlife conservation and responsible tourism – including NGOs, community groups, corporates, policymakers and members of the public.

OUR MISSION

To create a shared platform for stakeholders to

CONVERGE,
COLLABORATE,
and CHANNEL COLLECTIVE ACTION

towards a common goal: the conservation of our planet's precious wildlife and wild habitats.

In keeping with this mission, GWF 2025 will provide grassroots conservation NGOs from across India with a global showcase for their work. The fair will also directly raise funds for the conservation of the Asian elephant and its migratory corridors.

TOURISM FOR CONSERVATION

We believe that promoting collaborations between wildlife conservation and responsible tourism is a matter of enlightened self-interest.

Ecotourism, done right, can provide stable, non-extractive income generation opportunities to underprivileged communities in ecologically sensitive landscapes, which is vital to ensuring the long-term conservation of biodiversity in such areas.

As such, responsible tourism can reconcile the interests of nature conservation with the imperatives of community upliftment and development.

EVENTS @GWF

GWF will facilitate the exchange of ideas, research, best practices, and technological solutions among experts and enthusiasts in the fields of wildlife conservation and responsible tourism.

At the same time, we will look to engage with the public at large about the wonder of our shared natural heritage, the challenges confronting wildlife conservation, and how ecotourism, done right, can provide real-world solutions.
